Striking diversity among family business award winners

Updated 23 May 2008

Three very different family businesses topped their respective generational categories at the recent 2008 South Australian Family Business of the Year Awards.

Delta Environmental Consulting won for 1st generation category, Adam Internet for 2nd generation category and Oliver's Taranga Vineyards for 4th generation and beyond category.

Now in their 10th year, the SA Family Business Awards, run by the SA Chapter of Family Business Australia, celebrate the achievements of SA businesses that aspire to family business best practice.

"We're thrilled that the winning companies are all so different," says Chairman of the SA Chapter of FBA, Chris Johnston.

"It demonstrates that all nature of SA family businesses have the opportunity to achieve family business best practice and in doing so, flourish within this state and beyond."

The state award winners will be entered into the National Family Business of the Year Awards in August.
